6 Month Project Meeting, Glasgow Caledonian University

The 6 month project meeting was held at Glasgow Caledonian University (GCU) between the 16-18th March 2010

Consortium partners travelled to Glasgow, Scotland to attend the 6 month meeting of the A-FOOTPRINT project. Day 1 comprised a workshop to scope the business model for the project concept. This was led by Professor David Edgar and Dr Kevin Grant from the Caledonian Business School at GCU. The workshop addressed core business values, customers and products, innovation and business strategy. The workshop underpins two tasks within the Product Evaluation work package (WP7). The Project Steering Committee met to consider the technical and scientific progress of the meeting, finance issues, and reporting and dissemination. The Consortium was pleased to announce that the first two project deliverables have been completed, and on time. The Consortium was delighted to receive a presentation from Enrique Montiel, the Coordinator for the SSHOES project (www.sshoes.eu). This project was funded in the same FP7 call as A-FOOTPRINT. The presentation was well received and provided an excellent opportunity to exchange knowledge and ideas in overlapping area. The remainder of the 6 month meeting was taken up with technical reports from the work package leaders, dissemination reports, and a finance 'clinic' from support staff from the coordinating centre. Plans were agreed for the programme of work leading up to the 12 month meeting hosted by Baltic Orthoservice, in Kaunas, Lithuania.
